

Every Woman in Ogden can now have a Gossard Corset

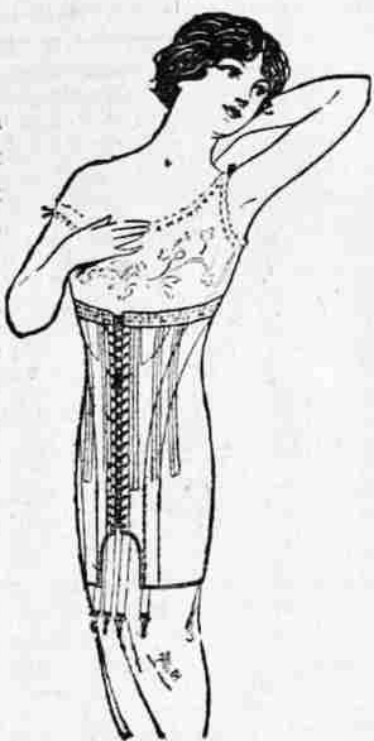

It has only been a short time since the price of Gossard Corsets was made low enough to permit of their general use by all women. First cost will always be a consideration by the woman who has been in the habit of investing less than $3.50 in a corset. She will expect more for her money and she has a right to. Never since the Gossard front-lacing was first introduced have we been able to show a greater value in any corset than in the new

Mrs. Sexton of the H. W. Gossard Co. of Chicago will be pleased to give you special fittings and information regarding the correct corset for your figure. BREAKS OUT OF JAIL AT NEPHI

Nephi, Nov. 13.—When Deputy Sheriff Goldsborough visited the county jail this morning at 8 o'clock he found that a jail-break had taken place. W. H. Johnson, who was being held on the charge of forgery, having made his escape during the night.

Johnson was locked in his cell last night. Investigation this morning showed that he had drawn the heads off the bolts of the door, letting himself into the main corridor. With the aid of a heavy piece of iron he then dug through the west brick wall of the jail.

Sheriff Gus Hendrick and a deputy searched all day for Johnson, without success.

BUSH OF THE GOULD SYSTEM GUEST OF BOISE

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 13.—Completing a hard two-day trip by auto, team and interurban to Boise from Winnemucca, Nev., President Benjamin F. Bush of the Western Pacific and party arrived here tonight in time to be banqueted at the Owyhee.

In his address, President Bush made no definite announcement of what action the directors and financiers of the Western Pacific would take relative to the Winnemucca Northern railroad, proposed to be built from Winnemucca to Boise, but he left the distinct impression that the territory has the necessary tonnage, and that the road will be built.

In the party, besides President Bush, are E. L. Brown, vice president, and C. M. Levy, general manager of the Western Pacific; Chief Engineer Stevens of the Missouri Pacific; E. L. Marston and Alonzo Potter of the Gould New York banking houses; R. Place, promoter, and C. E. Haviland, vice president of the Winnemucca Northern. A delegation of local business men and capitalists left here for Caldwell and met President Bush and his party. The return to this city was made over the Boise & Interurban at 6 o'clock tonight.

President Bush will make a hurried inspection of Boise and vicinity tomorrow morning and leave for Twin Falls and Salt Lake.

LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY IN COURT

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 12.—The war between the majority and minority stockholders of the Idaho-Oregon Light & Power company, in which the latter want a receiver for the property, has been temporarily, at least, halted, as Judge Frank S. Dietrich of the federal court for the Idaho jurisdiction has issued an order appointing W. J. Ferris of Los Angeles, Wis., to make an inventory of the holdings of that company for the benefit of the court and the stockholders. His selection has been agreed upon by both the committees directing the affairs of the majority and minority stockholders. Ferris has accepted and will soon be here to take up his duties.

Judge Dietrich has also ordered an injunction to issue directed against both the Idaho-Oregon Light & Power company and the Idaho Railway company officials, restraining them from changing or modifying present conditions of either company relative to each other, or modifying or changing existing business affairs. The Idaho-Oregon officials are also enjoined from contracting or diverting any of its revenue except that actually required for operating expenses, and from contracting for light and power from the Idaho Railway company except for what may be absolutely necessary beyond its own capacity.

Both companies are required to make reports from time to time to the court. The orders are not to interfere with sale of the property, but the court reserves the right to confirm any sale that may be made. In the event that the court eventually permits the property of the Idaho-Oregon to go to sale, and should the Idaho Railway company be the purchaser, bondholders of the Idaho-Oregon are to be given the option of accepting railway bonds or cash in payment for their bonds in the company sold at foreclosure. This arrangement is said to be satisfactory to both sides.

Stockholders were unable to reach a settlement of their difficulties out of court, although the committees in charge of the affairs of both made every effort to do so, is now a certainty and all such negotiations have been called off. Both sides seem to be willing to take their chances with the court. The minority stockholders do not appear to be so insistent for recovery for the Idaho-Oregon property, although they are taking every precaution to protect their rights and the court is determined this shall be done as to both sides. The majority stockholders are still confident of the foreclosure.

PROTESTS OF STATE ARE NOT ALLOWED

Salt Lake, Nov. 14.—Decisions which disallow the protests of the state against three important mineral claims made by the local United States land office yesterday. All of the protests were against the claims of Peter B. Bradley et al. The first one involves mineral application No. 69415 for the Mohawk and other lodes. The second one involves application No. 69414 for the Picoche lode. The third involves application No. 69411 for the Winnemucca and Flat Head lodes.

In each protest, the state charges that the lodes referred to were located on a school section, the title of which is vested in the state of Utah absolutely and without reserve. It is also charged that at the time of the final approval of the public survey, the lands were not and are not now known to be mineral lands or valuable for the mineral contained therein.

The evidence which led the register and receiver to disallow the protests of the state was presented by a witness whose name is given as Richter. In the decision it is stated that Richter is known to be a man of experience in mining and mineralogy and that he has had considerable technical knowledge on the subject. In his testimony it appears that he was the claimant for the purpose of prospecting for a supposed coal vein in 1889; that he found a vein to be there; that he located two claims in the locality himself, but that he made no public announcement that the vein was a valuable vein of phosphate for the reason that he wished to profit himself by an exploitation of the land.

The testimony of the state as presented by Attorney General A. R. Barnes was as follows: By the enabling act under which the state of Utah came into the union, it was granted the title to and became vested with the title to the sections under protest, without reservation regarding whether any of the lands were known to be valuable for the minerals which they are said to contain.

The attorney general also argued from the testimony of William Rex and Alfred H. Bowker, who were the first witnesses called in the case. Rex and Bowker testified that although they knew the mineral character of the lode or lodes which traversed the land in question they did not know the exact value of mineral contained therein.

The register and receiver ordered that the application of the protestee for patent be allowed subject to further compliance with the law.

FEDERAL PIE IN IDAHO IS DIVIDED

Washington, Nov. 13.—Development today in the Idaho federal patronage situation was a lively topic among western members. What apparently was a settled determination to recognize only Wilson Democrats in that state today developed into a compromise plan in which both factions are to share alike in the distribution of plums. Such an agreement has been reached. It is understood, as a result of the recent visit of former Governor Hawley. The first Idaho appointments are expected to reach the senate next Monday, when it is said the president will nominate Charles E. Harris for register and Charles F. Molden for receiver of the Blackfoot land office. Harris has the support of National Committeeman Elder and Molden is backed by former Senator Dubois and former Governor Hawley.

These are to be followed shortly by the nomination of Judge McClear of Coeur d'Alene as attorney, to succeed Lingenfelter, who is endorsed by Elder.

It is understood that the Hawley-Dubois faction will be allowed to name the marshal, and indications are that any of the following three would be acceptable: Fred Flood, C. Reeves of Boise, and Leroy Jones of Shoshone. Gray, whom Hawley had proposed for the marshalship, is believed to be out of the race.

T. D. JOHNSON TO NAME POSTMASTERS. Postoffices will henceforth be distributed in Utah by Mathonith Thomas and Tillman D. Johnson, the Democratic candidates for congress at the election of 1912. For some reason not made public, Postmaster General Burleson has taken the postoffice patronage from National Committeeman W. E. Wallace and has given it to the congressional candidates.

Had Mr. Thomas and Mr. Johnson been elected to congress they would have had the distribution of this patronage, but the selection of unsuccessful candidates as arbiters of federal appointments is somewhat unusual. As yet only the postal appointments have been referred to the congressional candidates, but it is considered possible that they will be consulted also concerning other federal appointments.

Some of the postoffice appointments in the state have been made by the department on the recommendation of the national committeemen, but all of the recent recommendations have been held up. Recently lists of all applicants for positions of postmasters throughout the state, with their endorsements, were sent here from Washington to Mr. Thomas and Mr. Johnson with the request that they designate candidates whom they favor for these positions.

It is interesting to note that last spring Tillman D. Johnson endorsed the candidacy of S. S. Smith for postmaster at Ogden, while the national committeemen recommended W. W. Browning for the place. Browning was the winner. Browning's recent developments would indicate that the department has had a change of heart with reference to the relative value of the endorsements of Mr. Johnson and Mr. Wallace.

HEAD OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICE IN OGDEN

By order of Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department, all internal revenue offices in Utah, Idaho, Montana will be closed from this afternoon at 5 o'clock until next Monday morning at 9 o'clock, while the transfer of the office is being made from E. H. Callier to W. C. Whaley.

Mr. Whaley reached Ogden last night from Montana and will go to Salt Lake today to assume charge of the office. His term will begin officially on Monday morning. The intervening time will be spent in taking stock of stamps and other supplies now in the hands of the collector and his deputies.

Mr. Whaley is a resident of Townsend, Mont. He is an old-time Democrat and an original Wilson man. His appointment to the position of internal revenue collector was made several months ago, but confirmation was withheld until Mr. Whaley severed connection with a Montana creamery company, against which suit had been brought by the federal government.

Mr. Whaley stopped in Ogden last night to visit his old friend, H. L. Bell, assistant superintendent of the Southern Pacific company, whom he has known for thirty years.

With reference to the rumor of the removal of the district headquarters from Salt Lake to Helena, Mr. Whaley said that the matter would be governed by the attitude of the department officials at Washington. It is certain, he said, that he will conduct the affairs of the district temporarily, at least, from Salt Lake. The official positively denied a reported interview in one of the Butte papers recently that it had been decided to remove the headquarters from Salt Lake at once.

Mr. Whaley has not given the appointment of deputies much consideration up to this time, preferring to get the affairs of the headquarters properly transferred before assuming additional troubles. He admitted that he had received instructions from the department to reappoint temporarily all deputies now at work in order that the affairs of the district may not be interrupted. He has also been notified of the attitude of the department against the removal of deputies for political reasons only.

"With the regard to the appointment of deputies I shall be governed largely by the action of the local Democratic committees and the three state committees of the district. While I have read something in the papers regarding so-called factional troubles, I feel reasonably certain it will not affect appointments in the revenue department. If I find however, that the various committees cannot reach an agreement, then I will use my best judgment in the selection of deputies, giving my principal attention to the man who is best qualified. I do not believe that there will be a chief deputy in any one of the three states in this district, but this is a matter which will rest largely with the department."

"While the matter of collecting the income tax comes under the supervision of the internal revenue collector, I have not yet received instructions from Washington regarding this part of the work."

IDAHO MAY HAVE SPECIAL SESSION

Boise, Nov. 13.—That Governor Haines is seriously considering calling a session extraordinary of the Twelfth Idaho legislature to convene in this city next year became known here today. Governor Haines refused to either deny or affirm the probability of calling the legislature in extra session. Those close to him officially declare that not only is the session extraordinary possible, but probable.

The condition of some of Idaho's irrigation projects through failure to remedy the matters. The law passed by the last legislature to permit the organization of a district to drain north Idaho lands are being urged in support of an extra session so that laws can be enacted to remedy the matters.

Letters are pouring into the governor's office from Shoshone, Bonner LAGOON BAR ROBBED

BY A LONE BANDIT Salt Lake, Nov. 14.—Armed with an automatic pistol and with his face masked by a red handkerchief, a lone bandit held up Joseph DeRocco, proprietor of the Lagoon bar, at his place of business, 44 North Third West street, shortly before 10 o'clock last night. The robber backed out of the place a few minutes after entering it, having in his pocket $46 which he had forced the proprietor to hand him from the cash register.

Without attempting to take anything from the persons of the three men in the saloon, the holdup went on to the front doorway, as he had entered, facing the room with his pistol leveled. The police were notified by telephone immediately after the robbery left and an auto-load of detectives hurried to the saloon. A search of the neighborhood failed of results. The only description that could be obtained from the men who were in the saloon at the time of the holdup was meager in details.

A. Edgar, a peddler, 23 years of age, was an suspect shortly after midnight by Patrolman W. E. Fair-

mer. The proprietor of the bar party identified Edgar by reason of the fact that he wore a red tie and a horseshoe pin, such as was worn by the holdup.

FUNERAL TODAY

Mr. Hamson was a prominent member of the Brigham fire department, being one of the most enthusiastic workers in the department since its organization. The cause of death was due to complications that developed after a severe attack of typhoid fever some months ago. Mr. Hamson was born in this city forty-seven years ago and had been a resident here all his life. He is survived by a widow and an adopted son 12 years of age.

Elaborate arrangements are under way by the committees appointed by the club to arrange the affair. The proceeds of the ball will be delivered into charitable channels by the women of the club. The ball will undoubtedly be the big social event of the season.

One Cause of Bad Complexion—the Cure

(From Family Physician.)

"Look at a section of skin under the microscope and you will readily understand why cosmetics generally injure the complexion," says Dr. H. Robert Mackenzie. "The skin, smooth as it looks to the naked eye, under the glass exhibits a lacework of tiny holes, mouths of myriads of little glands. To keep the skin healthy these holes must be unobstructed, that the perspiration and natural oil can have free outlet. Should the glands be blocked up with irritating gritty particles, a common result of using powders and creams, Nature retaliates by causing sallowness, roughness, blotches or pimples."

"As a substitute for all cosmetics I recommend ordinary mercurized wax. It not only does what the various face preparations are supposed to accomplish, but its peculiar absorbent action frees the pores from the daily accumulation of impurities, also absorbing the devitalized particles of surface skin. This produces a natural, healthy, youthful complexion. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drugstore, usually suffices to rejuvenate the poorest complexion. It is put on nightly, like cold cream and washed off mornings."
